Work Experience

- Internship at Fasiculus

For my internship at Fasiculus I had the opportunity to work with professionals in a variety of fields which proved to be a tremendous learning experience for me in the professional space. Fasiculus is a company that specializes in digitalizing and optimizing products that can contribute to a more sustainable future. My task was to conduct research make a report on factors that would enhance the functionality of the RVM.

- Volunteering work for Red Dot Foundation

My responsibility for this volunteering program was to gather 20 reports of individuals who had encountered sexual harassment or other violations, and to enter the reports on the safe city website. From this volunteering work I learned that by sharing one's experiences, one can inspire others to speak up for themselves and confront their perpetrator. I also learned that how we can utilize methods to examine a variety of social problems with the help of data management like using crowdsourcing software and urban planning
